

The Center for Connected Medicine

The Center for Connected Medicine is defining the transformation of health care by serving as a global thought leader. As the world's first collaborative health care executive briefing center, it is committed to developing the blueprint for innovative patient-centered and population health models using strategically integrated health information technology. By creating connections among those who deliver, receive and support health care, the Center promotes cultural change, coordinated care delivery and greater patient engagement. Located in Pittsburgh, the Center for Connected Medicine is comprised of partners representing various facets of the health information community.

CCM Partners

The Center's partners exhibit notable commitment to patient-centric care. Their involvement, and the solutions they showcase, focuses on facilitating communication and collaboration among diverse health care stakeholders. Their end game is ambitious: Nothing less than transforming the industry to improve access and quality while better managing costs. Partners invite clients and prospects to visit the Center where they experience firsthand how emerging models and integrated technologies can help them address the challenges of a changing health care landscape.

The Experience

The Center showcases one of the world's most advanced medical centers, UPMC. Built upon an integrated platform that supports a new care model designed to bring together providers, care-delivery locations and insurance services, UPMC leverages information technology to deliver health care of the highest quality in settings across the globe. Visitors to the Center experience a comprehensive view of fully integrated partner technologies, illustrated through real-life scenarios reflecting cases and situations encountered by practicing UPMC clinicians.

The Center draws health care executives and clinicians from around the world to explore the transformation of health care, specifically how it applies to their own organizations and regions. Visitors are exposed to comprehensive, quality-driven, cost-conscious, state-of-the-art health care inspired by new care models and new technologies. Discussions revolve around the concept of truly patient-centric care and solutions addressing the challenge of today's fragmented health care environment.
